Recognizing the Superheroes in Scrubs...A positive change for nursing.

Men in Nursing Conference 2012

November 30, & December 1, 2012

Crowne Plaza Anaheim Resort, Garden Grove, California

The Health Workforce Initiative of the California Community College Economic and Workforce Development Program and the Southern California Chapter for the American Assembly for Men in Nursing would like to announce our 2nd annual conference “Recognizing the Superheroes in Scrubs...A positive change for nursing”. This day and a half conference will provide interaction with professional nurses, student nurses, and pre-health students seeking to enter the field of nursing, providing a framework for discussion and influence factors, which affect men as nurses.

This conference in made available to any nurse, student and pre-health student to attend. The goal of this conference is to provide a venue to facilitate discussion, awareness and strengthen the communication and gender neutrality needed in the nursing field. Professionals and educators from across the state will present on current trends and issues facing us in the health care arena today.

This conference is geared for all levels of nursing: Registered Nurse, Licensed Vocational Nurse, Certified Nursing Aides, students of nursing programs from graduate to pre-licensure. Sessions will include both general and breakout sessions geared to the student and the professional nurse, with Keynote speakers from varied areas of professional work environments and presenters from both local and state educational institutions, associations and governmental agencies.

We hope to support professional growth, communication and demonstrate to each other and society the increasing contributions being made by the nursing profession.

Agenda Topics:

- Panel of Superheroes (ER, Transport, Flight, OR, ICU)
- The Boards of Nursing
- Dealing with cynicism, racism, territorialism, nepotism in nursing
- AAMN representative
